

4th International Conference on One Health to be held

Khazar University is excited to host the 4th International Conference on One Health: Problems & Solutions on November 28-29, 2025. Focusing heavily on “Local and Regional Systems Transformation for Planetary Health Systems Change”, the event marks the 10th Anniversary of the Planetary Health Alliance (PHA), of which Khazar University is a proud and active member.

This conference is being organized in collaboration with several esteemed national and international partners. The event will address the complex interconnections between human, animal, and environmental health. Discussions will cover the impact of climate change, man-made threats to health, disease control, and the development of sustainable and resilient food systems. Additionally, the conference will provide a platform to share and discuss best practices, focusing on urgent, evidence-based actions and solutions that need to be implemented to ensure long-term planetary sustainability.

To effectively address these multifaceted issues, the conference will focus on three strategic objectives:

- Cultivating Future Leaders in One Health Problem Solving: Designing and initiating a robust Youth Leadership Program focused on empowering and connecting emerging Planetary Health leaders through mentorship, training, and collaborative projects aimed at tackling real-world challenges.
- Enabling Community-Driven Problem Solving: To establish a Community Action Grant mechanism that provides essential funding and support for regional communities to develop and implement sustainable, locally driven Planetary Health Solutions tailored to their specific needs.
- Fostering Dialogue and Vision through Arts and Humanities: To support the development of collaborative artistic and digital projects that creatively explore One Health problems and communicate shared aspirations for a healthy, safe, and just world.

Recognizing the power of collaboration, the conference will actively promote networking and relationship-building among diverse stakeholders, fostering a dynamic environment for future regional and global cooperation in advancing sustainable One Health frameworks.
